Chapter 1 by Christina Adkins

Where I live, there is lots of sunshine and palm trees just like you'd think. We have many beaches and lakes, and a swimming hole is never too far away. We have an underwater hotel, Gasparella's Pirate Fest, a theme park for Dinosaur Lovers, and of course the well-known Disney World. You can swim with the manatees or dolphins, explore spring caverns, visit NASA's Space Center, and feed an alligator where I live. We have the world's smallest Police Station, and we serve the Worlds Largest Cocktail. My state is also full of vast countryside, and woods to explore. Spring and Fall are usually sporadic days mixed in with extreme summer or our short lived winter season. You can still see some brave soles swimming during the winter!

Where I live is, Florida. :)
